Itlas

Assi del Consiglio - Faggio San Marco (beech wood)

This is Itlas' latest finish for the prestigious project Assi del Consiglio. Faggio San Marco has an innovative tone, particularly warm and reddish. The planking is treated with water-based varnish and does not contain solvents which are harmful to the environment. This finish was the protagonist of the promotion Italian Design 2014. The elegant and exclusive collection "Assi del Consiglio" produced by Itlas –leading Italian company in the production of wood floors– has been expanded with the addition of new, trendy finishes. Assi del Consiglio Faggio San Marco and Assi del Consiglio Faggio Giudecca, for instance: great impact and warmth for the former, with reddish tones; for the latter, the colour is less bright, between grey and dove-grey. They both enhance the typical knots and mottles of beechwood, for a pre-finished three-layer floor totally made in Italy, produced locally, PEFC certified and made with wood from the old Italian forest of Cansiglio. A floor which, thanks to its stable, patented structure, is particularly suited to be used where an underfloor heating system needs to be installed. Both the finishes have names which clearly recall the places, history and splendour of the Serenissima Repubblica di Venezia (Republic of Venice): a choice due not only to the closeness of Itlas' production site to one of the most beautiful and well-known cities in the world, but especially to the fact that the beech wood from this forest was used by the Doges to build oars for the galleys of their fleet. Furthermore, in addition to these two refined novelties, the company is offering its clients the opportunity to request customised finishes, which are not present in the range offered on the market. These are mostly requested by architects and designers who work closely with Itlas.

Ali Parquets

PreMass Trend and SuperPreMass Trend

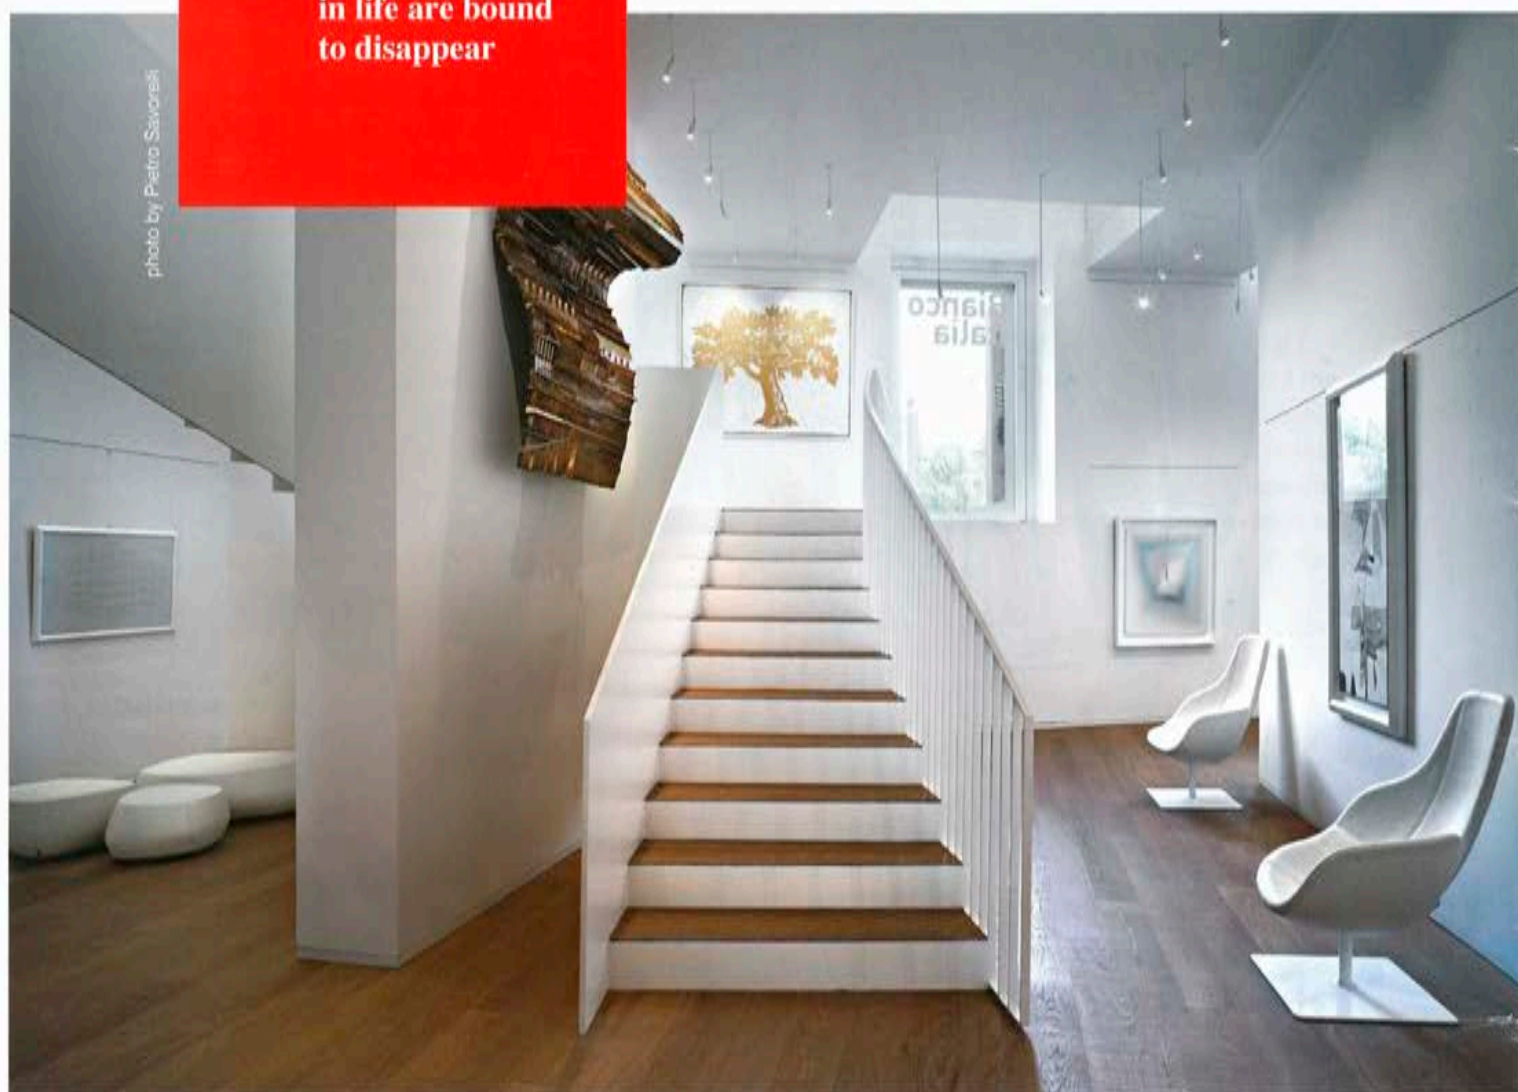

From the continuous research of Ali was introduced a big novelty: thanks to some technical devices is now possible to lay on demand PreMass Trend and SuperPreMass Trend in basket pattern. In this way these product ranges become even more exclusive, being the usual prefinished solid wood parquet which can be used to realize this laying geometry. Thanks to the absolute precision machining it is possible to realize basket patterns made of different kinds of wood in order to obtain pleasant color combinations. With PreMass Trend format, wooden strips are supplied in format mm 10x70x420 to obtain basket pattern modules with dimensions mm 420x420. In case of SuperPreMass Trend modules dimensions depends on planks length. In order to facilitate the laying down we recommend one of the following formats: 14x90x450, 14x90x540, 14x90x630 mm, for the realization of modules with dimensions of 450x450, 540x540, 630x630 mm. Another novelty is the possibility to lay PreMass Trend in Herringbone parquet flooring. The exclusive finish treatment of these products, updated with the latest trend and modern design, in combination with the Herringbone parquet flooring installation type, evokes the charm and prestige of ancient locations, creating a unique combination.

Some last forever.

ASSI DEL CANSIGLIO and TAVOLE DEL PIAVE are prestigious three layers planks, with whom Itlas has rediscovered old-style floorings with the same quality and the same emotion. These are entirely made in Italy products, manufactured with natural, highly selected materials in exclusive models.
